

Photo. Copyright.

MEMORIALS OF THE KNIGHTS OF MALTA.

Bedford.

The Armoury in the Governor's Palace at Malta Vividly Recalls to Memory the Knights of St. John, the Military Religious Order who held the Island as a Stronghold of Christianity against the Turks from 1530, when they Took it Over from the Counts of Sicily, until, in 1798, they were Expelled from the Island by Napoleon.