My own darling Kit

Just a line to cheer you up my own. I hope you are feeling quite yourself had a good sleep last night I didn't get much myself but I am alright now, & only anxious to see my bonnie Kate & thank the weather so alright yet, it won't be too late for you.

Cheer up my darling, you will get through it alright it will be all over before you can look round. No other flowers come alright. she likes them. I hope you won't feel bad old lady, you ~~will be all over it~~ make this a happy day for you & I think everyone else will so be as brave as you can you know how I love you, & that this is the day we have talked about for such a long time.

Forgive me being cross with Harriet last night, but I couldn't help it, but it will all be forgotten to-day in the happiness we shall feel at being made one. God bless you my own darling hoping to see you shortly & that everything will go off alright. With most fondest love heaps of kisses.
